

GET THE HELP YOU NEED WHEN YOU NEED IT MOST

The Cigna Designated Substance Use Treatment Provider program is here to help.

If you or a loved one is coping with substance use issues, you may need extra help. For the health plans we administer, Cigna can help you find care to deal with substance use challenges. This may include treatment at a health care facility for substance use disorder.

Choosing the right health care facility is an important decision. To help you and your treating provider make this decision, Cigna has identified in-network providers that provide quality, cost-effective care.

These Designated Substance Use Treatment Providers have met certain Cigna measures, based on these factors.

- Available substance use disorder treatment programs:* inpatient, residential, partial hospitalization and intensive outpatient
- Annual admission and readmission data
- Cost data

Did you know?

Some health care facilities offer treatment programs specifically designed for first responders, adolescents, women-only and those with chronic pain. Some offer treatment options such as music therapy, yoga, equine therapy and art therapy.

For a list of Cigna Designated Substance Use Treatment Providers, please see the  chart on the back of this flyer.

Together, all the way.®

* All participating facilities provide an inpatient or residential level of care with a step down to a partial hospitalization (PHP) or intensive outpatient program (IOP), which are subject to prior authorization. The following services are generally not covered: Services considered to be experimental, investigational and unproven, and nonmedical ancillary services including, but not limited to, educational services, custodial services, vocational rehabilitation and counseling services, religious counseling, work-hardening programs and driver safety programs. This is not a complete list of plan terms and plans may vary. See your plan documents for details of your specific health plan.

 While nonmedical ancillary services are generally excluded from coverage under the health plan, they are included with the authorized substance use disorder treatment program provided by the designated providers at no additional expense to the Cigna customer. Boarding expenses offered in regard to covered outpatient programs are available at the customer's expense.

The Cigna Designated Substance Use Treatment Provider program is not a guarantee of the quality of care that will be provided to individual patients. You should consider all relevant factors and consult with your treating doctor when choosing a provider for care. Providers are solely responsible for any treatment provided to their patients. Providers are not agents of Cigna.
